

The Grand Fete of CHEZ LES CANSES VIII

Being a CELEBRATION of 18th century Kansas City Ñ “Chez les Canses.” It is a time of the French & Indians in the vast territory once known as La Louisiane, & the English, French, German, Scottish and Irish colonists that pushed Westward from more settled areas.

The EVENT concentrates on the years 1720-1785, and encourages first person interpretation, personas, demonstrations, and activities, some planned for Y^e Public, and some for Y^e Participants themselves.

As always there will be French Marines, a Scottish and British encampment, a Native camp, room for Coureurs and Frontier Folk, plus a Tavern, Trader’s cabin, Craftsmen, and a variety of Villagers and Visitors going about their daily work. You are encouraged to take part, offer your skills, talents and interests!
